Accessing Other Apps from Email

After logging into gmail.com with your full Brown email address as the username, you will see a grid on the top right. Click this grid to see links to your other apps.

Other Suggestions for Finding Apps

- Add your favorite apps (like Mail and Calendar) to your browser's bookmarks bar, and links will always show at the top of your browser. Every browser is different - here's information about the bookmarks bar in Chrome.
- Automatically open your favorite apps in new tabs each time you start your browser. Again, each browser is different - in Chrome, look for the "Open a specific page or set of pages" option.
- Note the address for the app and type it in manually, like calendar.google.com or drive.google.com
