Author Tip | Export/Import a Report from One Environment to Another

Wendi Lewis - 2023-11-22 - Comments (0) - Cognos Analytics

Report authors are encouraged to develop reports in a non-Production environment (Cognos Analytics QA or Cognos Analytics Development) for the following reasons.

- Report development can have unexpected results that could impact the Production environment.
- It segregates reports that are under development from those that have been fully tested and ready for Production use.

Export/Import a Report Specification

Follow the steps in this article from IBM to easily export a report specification in one environment and import it into another.
