

Creating Quizzes in Panopto Videos

Adding quizzes to Panopto is a handy way to gauge student understanding and engagement with your Panopto videos.

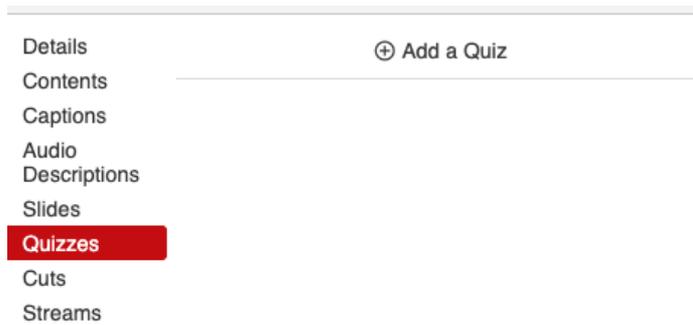

In order to add a quiz to a video, you must first open the Panopto editor by hovering over the video to make the icons appear, then click "Edit."

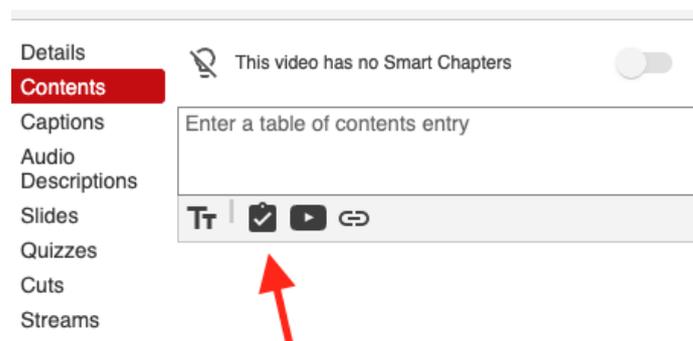

This will open the editor view in a new browser tab. Before creating a quiz, advance the video to the point where you would like to insert your first quiz. In this example, I selected the 10-second mark to add a quiz.

Make sure that the video is paused, then select the "Quizzes" panel in the sidebar of the page. Click "Add a Quiz."

Alternatively, you may select the "Contents" panel and click the create quiz icon.

The first question has been automatically created for you. You may now edit the following quiz components:

- Quiz name
- Current question
- Question type

Question Types

- Multiple Choice: Includes several answer options, but students may select only one.
- Multiple Select: Includes several answer options, and students may select more than one.
- True/False: Provides only two options — “True” or “False” — and students may select one.
- Fill in the Blank: Requires students to type in the correct answer.

You may add answer choices to Multiple Choice, Multiple Select, and Fill in the Blank questions.

If you would like, you may also include an explanation of the correct answer for students to view after completing the quiz.
