Issue

Freeze issue
The cursor is positioned in a field on an admin page where you should be able to enter data, but nothing happens as you type. The issue occurs randomly and is not associated with any particular admin pages, but does seem to occur when:
- Browser is Firefox (issue has not been reported with Chrome)
- At some point in the session, the user opened an admin page using the "Recently Opened" icon on the menu panel.

Resolution

Point your mouse somewhere in the browser window outside of the admin page itself and click, then position the cursor back in the field on the admin page and click again. For example, you could position the cursor on the left-hand side of the browser window in the grey area of the Banner 9 menu panel (but not positioned on one of the menu panel icons). Clicking there and then returning the cursor to the field in the admin page and clicking again should allow you to enter data into the field. The Banner vendor is aware of this issue, but has yet to resolve it.
