New Hardware Services Storefront - View Only Inventory

Kyle Oliveira - 2025-12-05 - Comments (0) - Desktop Computing and Printing

How to access the storefront You can access the new view using the following Brown GO link:

- go.brown.edu/hwstore

Additional Information We have published documentation with further details on the storefront here:

- <https://sites.google.com/brown.edu/planon-for-itscs/oit-hardware-services-storefront>

We understand that having accurate, real-time visibility into hardware availability and pricing is critical for you when planning purchases for your departments. To support this, we have exposed a storefront in Planon that directly ties to our internal inventory system.

What this update provides - This update allows users to view up-to-date information regarding:

- Inventory Availability: Real-time data on what items are currently in stock.
- Pricing: Current pricing for all items available from the Hardware Services Team.

Please note:

- This interface is currently designed for desktop use only.
- Workflow Changes: As far as initiating a purchase request, please continue to follow your existing workflows. This change is strictly to provide transparency into our inventory and pricing data to assist with your planning.
