Request a Course Blog
Stephanie Obodda - 2016-01-25 - 0 Comments - in Course Blogs

1. Visit courses.brown.edu
2. Click on the Log In button on the left navigation. If prompted, enter your Brown username and password. You should then see this:

3. You should then see the courses for which you are the "Instructor of record" in the left navigation. Select the course for which you want to make a Course Blog request.
   - If you are not the instructor, you may request tools on his/her behalf following these directions.
4. You will then see a new page with two tabs. Select the "Tools & Services" tab. Click on the link for Course Blog, then select the "Request Course Blog" link in the grey box.

5. You will see a confirmation at the top of the page that the request has been successful. The Course Blog will be immediately available to you from that link.
A blog was created successfully
You can access this service at http://blogs.brown.edu/dept-1234-s01

Tags
Digital Learning & Design (DLD)