

Students: Update your course plan in ASK

Stephanie Obodda - 2020-07-16 - Comments (0) - ASK

1. Log on to ASK. From the Degree Progress > Declarations, you'll see any approved or in-process declarations. Click change under your approved declaration.

Declarations

My Declarations

You should meet with a concentration advisor (see Focal Point for a list) before submitting any new declaration.

Concentrations

Status	Approved
Progress Status	Progress OK.
Degree	A.B.
Concentration	Africana Studies
Track	None
Advisor	Francoise Hamlin

View Change

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS

To SWITCH your concentration, click "change" above to modify your current concentration. Note: until your new concentration is approved, the old one will remain on file as your concentration of record.

To add an ADDITIONAL concentration, click "Declare a new concentration" below.

Declare a new concentration

Click to switch concentrations or make changes to this concentration or course plan

Click to add a second concentration

2. Scroll to the course list and click the pencil to edit an existing course. You may also trash a course or add a new one at the bottom.

Brown	BIOL 0510	Introductory Microbiology	2016-Spring	2016-Spring	Core course
Brown	CHEM 0350	Organic Chemistry	2013-Summer (2014-Summer)	(B)	Prereq
Advanced Placement Program	MATH 0090	Introductory Calculus, Part I	2012-Fall		AP credit

Key: Overlaps with another declaration New course Removed-course Changed attribute

(term/grade) - course plan term does not match academic history

Add Course

3. When you edit or add a course, a new dialogue box will open up allowing you to add an item from your internal academic record (a Brown course, approved AP credit or approved transfer course)

